Wine: 2004 Columbia Valley Cabernet Franc

Winery: Willis Hall

Winemaker: John Bell

Comments: Cabernet Franc is a red grape variety usually employed in a blending role to uplift, with floral scents, the wines made from traditional Bordeaux grape varieties. It also is the sole variety allowed in the classified red wines from the Chinon region of the Loire Valley in France. In this wine the forward flavors of the Cabernet Franc are complemented by the softer, more lush flavors of Merlot, a better-known Bordeaux variety.

Accolades: Seattle Wine - "Sophisticated and refines, uncharacteristic of this grape but very fine. Dry as dust and grainy. Save this one for an ostrich steak cooked rare."

Awards: Bronze Medal - 2007 Florida International Wine Challenge, Bronze Medal - 2007 Lone Star International Wine Competition

Food Pairings: Paired foods can range from lightly herbed and spiced dishes to those with much bolder flavors. This wine is a grand accompaniment for nearly all foods.

Growing Region: Chandler Reach, Portteus, Snipes Canyon Ranch, Candy Mountain, Red Mountain
